A Tasteful Retreat for Wine Lovers

Create a stylish and functional wine cellar tailored to your collection. For wine enthusiasts and collectors, a dedicated space to store and showcase a wine collection is as enjoyable as a way to protect their investment. It is not just about storing bottles but about crafting an environment that preserves wine at ideal temperatures while providing a visually appealing space to relax, taste and pour.

While most aspects of a wine cellar are visible, the most essential consideration is invisible: temperature control. To maintain its flavor and longevity, wine must be stored in a cool, temperature- and humidity-stable environment—ideally between 55 degrees F and 58 degrees F. Modern refrigeration units are designed specifically for wine, ensuring the temperature remains constant and notifying
